SUBJECT: 76000 Oracle America, Inc. - addition of former BEA products to price list

TO ALL STATE AGENCIES AND OTHERS AUTHORIZED TO USE STATE CONTRACTS:

Oracle America, Inc has updated their product offering to include the former BEA Software products from BEA Software contract PT56943. These products, including maintenance are no longer available through the BEA contract. They are now part of the Oracle Technology Global Price List dated July 15, 2010.

Many former BEA products have been discontinued and are no longer available while others have been combined and integrated into other Oracle products. For the most part the product cost and support has decreased except for WebLogic Portal 10.2 DL now WebLogic Portal and WebLogic Server Premium 10.0 DL now WebLogic Server Enterprise Ed.

The following information is not all encompassing, but is intended to assist in informing existing BEA software users of potential impacts on their license use and support rights.

- When renewing support for previously acquired licenses that were acquired under the former BEA Contract – the licenses will be governed by the terms and conditions of the former BEA Contract or PT64000 whichever is more favorable for the end user.

An example would be – an end user has WebLogic Premium Licenses under support and just needs to renew support through the PT64000 Contract

- When ordering new or incremental licenses the new or incremental licenses will be governed by the terms and conditions of PT64000.

An example would be – an end user needs to acquire new WebLogic Server Enterprise Edition Licenses, the new or incremental license(s) would be governed by PT64000 while the licenses that are under support that had been acquired previously would be governed by the terms and conditions of the former BEA Contract or PT64000 whichever is more favorable for the end user.

- When an end user elects to replace previously acquired licenses under a former BEA Contract with a current Oracle product set the resulting licenses will be governed by the terms and conditions of PT64000. The end user should be familiar with Section 87 where Licensed Software Technical Support and Maintenance is discussed and the description of technical support of a license set is covered.

An example would be – an end user desires to complete a product upgrade through the process available in the PT64000 Contract outlined in Appendix E, Section 8.

The revised pricelist is available from Oracle and located on the OGS website. Product mapping and migration is available by contacting the OGS Purchasing Officer or the Oracle contact listed under the Contractor Information link on the OGS website.

CONTRACTOR(S)/ Oracle USA, Inc.

CONTRACT NO(S): PT64000

SUBJECT: 20944 Oracle USA, Inc. price list update adding Financial Services Global product pricing

ALL STATE AGENCIES AND OTHERS AUTHORIZED TO USE STATE CONTRACTS:

Oracle USA, Inc. has updated their contract to include their Financial Services Global Price List which offers Revenue Management and Billing for Insurance product.

The software licensing metric is based on the annual written premium per million dollars in written premium. The Pricing metric is $2500 per million dollars ($million) in written premium with a minimum threshold of $500m of written premium. To follow are two examples of how to calculate license cost. The annual maintenance would be 22% of the net license cost.

Example 1:

Written Premium of $400m annually:

Since the minimum pricing metric is $500m in written premium the list price calculation would be $500m x $2500.00 = $1.25m License cost (list price). Applying the standard New York State discount to the list price would result in a net license fee of: $1.25m - ($1.25m x .47) = $662,500.

Example 2:

Written Premium of $1.5b annually:

$1.5b x $2500 = $3.75m License cost (list price). Applying the standard New York State discount to the list price would result in net license fee of $3.75m - ($3.75m x .47) = $1,987,500

The revised price list is dated 5/13/09 and posted on the OGS website. It is also available from Oracle.

All other terms and conditions remain the same. Please mark all vouchers accordingly.
