This federal program allows authorized state and local governments to purchase equipment and supplies in support of counter-drug, homeland security, and emergency response activities.

New York's 1122 Public Safety Procurement Program is currently open to any unit of local government that has as part of its mission a requirement to enforce anti-drug laws, provide education activities related to counter-drug efforts, or is involved in homeland security or emergency response. This includes police departments, fire departments, public health, public works, and emergency services.

Entities interested in participating are encouraged to submit their Certification Request Letter according to the requirements outlined on the New York State Procurement 1122 Public Safety Procurement Program webpage under the "Get Certified" subheading.
